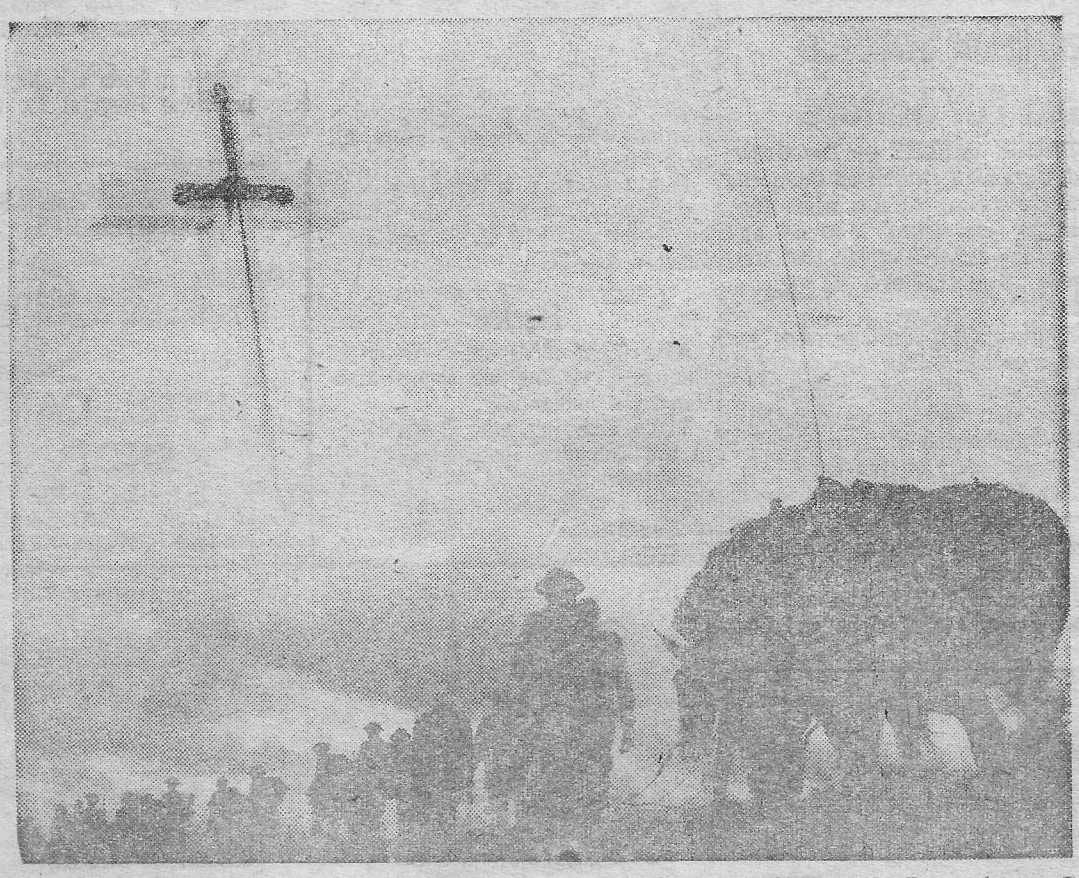
Pay Tribute To Retiring Councillors



GHOSTLY FIGURES of Canadian soldiers march through the Italian countryside in the shadow of the Ortona Cross. More than 1,300 Canadian servicemen are buried at the Canadian Military Cemetery at Ortona — scene of one of the bitterest battles in Italy during the Second World War. On Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, millions of citizens across Canada will pay silent homage to the more than 100,000 Canadian servicemen who have died in defence of freedom since 1914. Vincent Appointed Deputy Mayor; Skating Rink Gets Green Light

LAC LA BICHE — The first meeting of the new town council was held in the town office with all councillors and the mayor and secretary present. Mayor Maccagno, who begins another two-year term of office after having been elected by acclamation, was sworn into office by Commissioner for Oaths S. Hamar. Councillors L. J. Badry and John Wolstenholme, who were elected to council at the Oct. 18 elections, also took the oath of office.

The mayor, in a few brief remarks, paid tribute to retiring Councillors Eli Tkachuk and James Hamar for their faithfulness during their terms of office over the past years. A vote of thanks was moved for the two who had given devoted service on the public works committee of council.

Committees of council for the coming year were appointed and are as follows: Public Works, Dr. D. D. Bouvier and L. H. Vincent; Police and Welfare, E. Shanks and J. Wolstenholme; Finance, L. J. Badry and F. W. McMillan; Memorial Hall, Dr. D. D. Bouvier, F. W. McMillan and L. H. Vincent. The mayor is exofficio a member of all committees.

Dates of regular meetings will continue to be the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

Walter Farus was present to meet the council and discuss the position of police chief. After some consideration, Mr. Farus was engaged as police chief and was to take up his duties the middle o fthe week. Mr. Farus comes here from Edmonton and will bring his wife as soon as suitable living accommodation can be secured.

Authority was given the public works committee to procede with construction of an open air skating rink at the sports grounds without delay. The project will be undertaken under the government's winter works program.

The council agreed to participate in an emergency measures exercise to take place this month.

Members of a court of revision appointed to hear complaints of business tax assessments were: L. H. Vincent, F. W. McMillan, L. J. Badry, J. Wolstenholme and M. Maccagno.

A tender of F. Rizzoli for supply of 1000 yards of gravel was accepted.

LAC LA BICHE — The Ukrainian Greek Orthodox ladies report that their annual bazaar held Nov. 2 was a successful event.

The food hamper was won by Mrs. Mary Romaniuk. The cash prize raffle winners were 1st, N. W. Wilkinson, Calgary; 2nd, Mrs. Anne Zinko, Lac la Biche; 3rd Michael Diachuk, Lac la Biche; 4th W. P. Raisbeck, Edmonton.

The ladies wish to thank all those who helped make the bazaar such a complete success.

Lac La Biche Talent Show To Have Two Performances

On December 9, Search for Talent comes to town with a 2:30 matinee show and an evening performance, accord-to Mrs. Jack Williams; president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Lac la Biche Legion, under whose auspices the show will be held.

Mrs. Williams stated that large audience necessitated a second show last year following the regular performance in the evening. This situation was a make-shift arrangement at best and it was felt could be improved upon by holding two separate shows, one in the afternoon and one in the evening.

Last year there were 33 entries. It was found impossible to reduce this number to the maximum figure of twenty, without causing confusion and disappointment. Under the new plan contestants will enter either for the afternoon show or the evening show. Each show will constitute a full program.

Entries are being taken at Hamar's Store and a special committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Williams is in charge of the advance sale of tickets on the popular Watch Award.

Another new feature of this year's Search for Talent is the appearance of a former talent winner as a guest artist. The winner will be selected from among last year's winners in the north eastern region.

Spotlight Parade under direction of Jack Benbow has taken on a new look this year with several new performers and a more lively presentation. Staging and lighting effects are also entirely new.

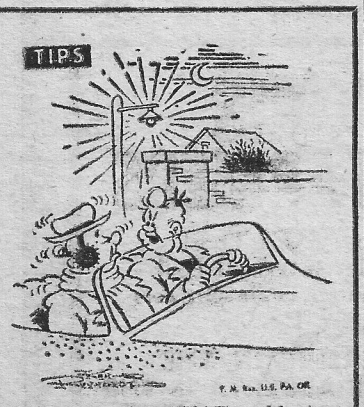
The two shows will be held at the Memorial Hall on Saturday, December 9, with the afternoon show at 2:30 and the evening show at 7:30.

A person can get just as drunk on water as on land.

Revellers Leave Littered Town

LAC LA BICHE — Hallowe'en has come and gone once again. Evidence of the time honored occasion are walks and porches covered with frozen mud, gum papers, sucker sticks and apple cores littering sidewalks and streets. Garbage cans were upset and put in out of the way places, and some windows were defaced with hard to clean scribbles. Although some other damage was reported, little evidence of serious hooliganism was to be seen.

In questioning housewives the following day, many felt that the number of children asking for Hallowe'en apples was out of all proportion to the population of the town of Lac la Biche, and that too many showed a rude attitude. Hallowe'eners may have to improve their manners or a good thing may turn against them, some stated.



"You can't be THAT cold—just yesterday I got some anti-freeze I saw in the Alberta Country Life Classifieds!"

Funeral Rite Held For G. Laboucane

LAC LA BICHE — Funeral services for a long-time resident of Lac la Biche, George Laboucane, were held from St. Catherine's Roman Catholic Church Nov. 2. Rev. Father Viel officiated and burial was in the Lac la Biche cemetery.

Mr. Laboucane passed away in an Edmonton hospital at the age of 75 years. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, three sons, Sam, Peter and Ernest, all of Lac la Biche, and three daughters, Annie and Virginia of Lac la Biche and Elvina of Chard.

Mr. Laboucane had lived in the Lac la Biche district since 1914 and was engaged in freighting supplies from outside points for many years.

Philip Plamondon Shot In The Head

Philip Plamondon and Pete McLeenan, of the Mounted police and Rudy Deering went by boat on Lac la Biche river to meet Albin Gauthier in his hunting cabin by the river.

While on the river Philip was hit by a big rifle shell at the back and was stunned for a few seconds. Hunters were near but out of sight.

He was brought home and Dr. D. Bourier put four stitches in his head and he returned home the same night.

A few days later he found another hole where the shell had come out again. He went to see the doctor for another check up.

MRS. BILLY GRAHAM, wife of the famed American evangelist, is the author of "Our Christmas Story," which begins this week in the Alberta Country Life section. Told in eight parts, the serial goes back to the book of Genesis and follows through to the birth of Jesus in the Gospel of St. Luke. Mrs. Graham feels that "without the story of sin in the Old Testament, we have no need of a Savior."

"We cannot separate our joy at Christ's coming from our desperate need for Him. Unless we have witnessed the tragedy of man's separation from God through the millennia before Bethlehem, then the birth of a baby in a stable is just that for us, no more."

"Nor can we separate His birth from the work He came to earth to do. Without His death, His birth has no meaning. The birth without the Cross is a gift half given."

Peter Pond School Opening Ceremony Held In McMurray

McMURRAY—Alberta's new Northland school division No. 61 officially opened its new school built here recently.

It is named Peter Pond after an early fur trader and explorer. In his memory a cairn was erected in the school grounds years ago. Then the town was called Fort McMurray.

Ceremonies were directed by McMurray School Board chairman R. Duncan. The new gymnasium was filled with students, parents and well-wishers. Rev. P. Harris gave the invocation. Mayor C. Peden expressed greetings from the town.

Junior high school students, directed by their teacher R. Chisolm entertained with choral numbers and a skit reviewing McMurray's history. The teaching staff was introduced by Mrs. R. Tolen, the former school secretary.

Larry St. Laurent contractor who built the Peter Pond school presented the school's key to the principal, Mrs. F. Harris. Present also were A. Burrows, engineer, and J. Tozer who presented the school with a large atlas from Western Construction consultants and designers.

Dr. W. W. Chalmers, official trustee of the department of education was the principal speaker. He spoke on the history of McMurray. He regretted that Fort had been dropped from the name. He payed tribute to Peter Pond after whom the school was named.

As representative of the minister of education he presented the school with a large framed picture of a typical Alberta scene.

J. Fairbairn performed the ribbon cutting ceremony. He is an early community resident and one of the first school board members.

A tour of the building and a lunch furnished by the Waterways' Women's Community Club ended the evening.

Mrs. O. Meardi Elected President At Home, School Association Meet

HYLO — The first Home and School Association meeting of the season was held recently in the school with the new executive elected last June, in charge.

Officers are: President, Mrs. O. Meardi; vice - president, Julius Keehn; secretary, Mrs. E. Keehn; treasurer, Richard Meardi; news convener, Mrs. N. Zalewsky with Mrs. C. McEachern as assistant.

Interesting and informative films comparing the domestic life of four average families in four different countries, India, France, Japan and Canada, were shown.

Program planning for the year will be taken care of by the executive. After a lengthy discussion most members preferred films at the meetings, with some enjoying speakers as well. Others thought handicraft displays would prove interesting.

The Library Committee reported that the books have been received, enabling the children to make use of them at the beginning of the school term.

Fund Raising Committee reported a dance held on Oct. 27.

It was brought to the attention of the members that at the Skating Rink meeting, which was held Oct. 20, most of those present were in favor of moving the skating rink to the school grounds. After a brief discussion it was approved by the Home and School Association members.

It was decided to obtain education films through the NFB Co-ordinator in Lac la Biche, which would cost approximately $15 for the whole year and would eliminate the separate postage for every film.

The treasurer reported a bank balance of $75.50. Members were enrolled during the evening and subscriptions to the Alberta Home and School News were taken.

The serving of coffee and cookies, followed by a social gathering, concluded the meeting.

E. Ramsey and son Paul left by car for Vancouver, where they will attend the wedding of their daughter and sister. Mr. Ramsey and Paul are contemplating spending the winter at the west coast.

Pastor Jake Plett and his bride, the former Mary Ann Sherstan of Two Hills, have returned from their wedding trip, and are residing here. Mr. Plett is pastor of the Lac la Biche and Hylo Evangelical Free Churches.

John Pohranychny, Laverne Southwick and Fern Couture are on an extended motor trip which will take them as far south as Mexico. The trio left Oct. 14 for Vancouver, planning to drive down the coast to California, and then on to Mexico. They expect to return late in November.

The past week saw several families change residences. The new four suite apartment building of B. & C. Investments is completed and the Earl Christensen's, Gordon Lee's and Hector Linnell's now occupy suites there. A fourth family will move in shortly. Mr. and Mrs. Esdras Cadieux have moved into their home on Lake Prominade, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Christensen. Mr. Klassen, accountant of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, and his family are now living in the suite over the bank.

During the cold snap of the past week the lake froze over. Because of high winds accompanying the cold weather the lake has frozen with a rough surface, making it impossible for skaters. In the past few years the lake froze around the 11th of November. Whether it may break up again before winter sets in remains to be seen. Date of freezing could be set as Thursday, Nov. 2.

If 50-Megaton Bomb Hit In Edmonton

If the Russian 50 megaton bomb had fallen on the corner of First Street and Jasper Avenue, instead of in the Soviet Arctic, this is what it would have done to Edmonton and the surrounding district:

- It would have dug a crater one mile wide and 300 feet deep.
- It would have killed everyone, sheltered or unsheltered within a distance of 3½ miles. Everyone out to the city limits would have been wiped out.
- It would have levelled all steel-reinforced office buildings within 5½ miles.
- It would have killed everyone above ground within a radius of 7 miles. This would destroy Sherwood Park, St. Albert, Griesbach.
- It would flatten brick homes within a 10 mile radius. This would encompass Namao, Winterburn.
- It would cause second-degree burns and ignite fires as far as 35 miles away. This would happen in a circle described by Redwater Vimy, Busby, Gunn, Thorsby, Millet, Tofield, Elk Island Park and Lamont, judging from a straight line drawn from the city centre.

Cats Numbered Among Hallowe'en Trophies

HYLO — Once again goblins, ghosts and witches sent out their loud cries "Tricks or Treats" on Hallowe'en night. Many enjoyed the masquerading and the rush from house to house. Both stores, The Hylo Co-op and the Hylo General, sent big boxes of applies to the school so were not bothered by the goblins.

However, this year Hallowe'en took on a new twist for it was not quite certain whether the arrival home would be only with apples and an odd pumpkin or cats as well.

It isn't any wonder Canada holds cat week from November 3 to 9 for that is the week following Hallowe'en and who knows what cats may have accumulated?

Anyway, cat week is held in order to educate the public on the worth of a cat as a pet and its utilitarian aspects, rodent insurance, a public health factor and anti-juvenile delinquency force.

McMurray-Waterways Legion Notes

The McMurray Branch No. 165 of the Canadian Legion will as usual organize the Remembrance Day Parade on Saturday, Nov. 11.

Those taking part in the parade are asked to be at the town hall at 9:45, and from there the parade will start at 10:15 a.m.

The Remembrance Day service will be held in the Fort Theatre; arrangements for this will be in the hands of Legion member, the Rev. Peter G. Harris, S. Th.

A social evening for Legion members and their ladies will be held in the community hall at Waterways commencing at 7:00 p.m.

The last Legion bingo was so popular that the first draw of a new one with larger prizes all in cash will be made on Nov. 11.

To give the young people of the district some understanding of what Poppy Day means, the Rev. Peter Harris addressed the children of the public school on the subject before Nov. 11, and P. J. Mooney spoke to the pupils of the separate school.

The Legion is offering a trophy to each for the best essay written by one of the pupils on the meaning of Remembrance Day. The best essay from each grade will be chosen by the teacher of that grade, and the best from the selection chosen will be judged by a Legion committee, age and grade being taken into consideration in choosing the winners.

UNION OF ALBERTA MUNICIPALITIES:

Convention Offers Answers On New Education Program

By Ken Larson

J. M. McKay, president of the Union of Alberta Municipal Districts says that prime function of the four day annual convention November 14 to 17 at the Macdonald Hotel is to provide a program that will answer questions councillors and secretaries have on the foundation program. One of the most interesting sessions will be a panel discussion on municipal taxation by four men who are recognized in this field.

While the foundation program for education in Alberta is getting much attention these days, the Municipal District of Strathcona is concerned about boys under 15 who don't get an education. These problem pupils, usually having been expelled from school, pose a special problem for the municipalities and the province.

At the Union of Alberta Municipal Districts slated for next week, Strathcona will present a resolution calling for "living in schools" for boys who, because of faulty home training, lack of training, or some other reason, are potential juvenile delinquents. It would be cheaper all around to provide schools than to continue caring for the boys at present costs in corrective and penal institutions, the resolution states.

Hon. A. J. Hooke, minister of municipal affairs, will address delegates at the Wednesday morning session.

A panel discussion on "the apportionment of the costs of the educational foundation program" will be moderated by Duncan Campbell, director of the dept. of political economy at the university; Dave Hunter, mayor of Athabasca; Ed Nelson, president of the FUA, and Dr. Gordon Mowat, professor of education, U of A.

The annual morning coffee party for wives of delegates will again be sponsored by CFRN and Sun Publishing Co. Ltd. Thursday, November 16.

The final day of the convention will deal with several dozen resolutions, including that of the MD of Strathcona which asks the provincial government appoint a committee to investigate the problem of boys expelled from school, with a view to devising appropriate action.

Some of the other resolutions to be dealt with include:

ELECTION DATE

County of Ponoka asks that the municipal act be amended to allow municipal and county elections on such dates as will enable the newly elected councillors to take office at the first regular meeting held by each respective council in the month of January in the ensuing year. The complaint is that March elections allow little time for councillors to get acquainted with municipal affairs before passing estimates for the current year or to study and prepare public works programs. The town and village act was amended to allow councillors to be elected and take office in the latter part of October or the first part of November.

BRUCELLOSIS GRANTS

The provincial government's plan to discontinnue grants after two years following the establishment of a federal brucellosis control arear is the subject of another resolution by the MD of Stony Plain. The resolution asks the grants be continued for five years after the federal blood testing program has begun, since without the grant, it will cost the municipalities $4,360 per year.

BEER IN CANS

MD ofSpirit River asks that beer sold for off premises consumption be offered in non-breakable containers.

The MD also asks that legislation be enacted prohibiting the erection of telephone lines and any other obstruction on the road whatsoever. The MD has another resolution asking that all lands held under homestead leases be assessed and taxed in the same manner as any other land and thereby bring about a more equitable tax relationship.

FARM COMPENSATION

MD of Kneehill asks that government enact legislation to make Workmen's compensation coverage compulsory for farm laborers.

The MD of Stony Plain asks a salary schedule for field supervisors be established for guidance of municipal districts and county councils, and that such schedule reach a maxifum of $5,600 and be graduated in a manner similar to the civil service schedulte. The MD feels that the maximum government contribution of $2,200, which is half of the present maximum of $4,400 is not sufficient in that more most be paid to encourage competent men to continue this work.

PURPLE GAS

The MD of Camrose says in a resolution that since the government uses purple gas in its trucks, that it should be possible for municipalities to use purple gas in municipal equipment.

SALES TAX

Coming out in favor of a general sales tax to be used for the support of education and hospitalization is the MD of Minburn. The MD states the resolution does not favor a property tax or further land tax, since the latter already is as heavy as farmers can bear, and near the last straw. A sales tax would provide revenue to offset expenses anticipated by the government.

DEPOSITS

Applicants to purchase land through the Farm Purchase Credit Act sometime change their minds. The turnabout comes after their applications have been approved by the local and provincial boards. To cut down on this the MD of Minburn suggests a $100 deposit from applicants and vendors alike, which would be forfeited by either of the parties who withdrew. Otherwise, the money would be refunded.

PETER KLEM — AND FIERCE LYNX

SMOKY LAKE — Recently, when Peter Klem was visiting his brother John at his farm home north of town, they discovered that something was prowling around the farm yard and causing quite a commotion.

Investigation revealed a lynx that was now in a tree. As Peter approached the spot the animal slid down the tree and, instead of retreating, stood its ground and poised itself to attack. Mr. Klem was able to shoot the lynx with pellets from a heavy shotgun before it had a chance to leap.

Peter Klem realized at that moment how dangerous it would have been for an unarmed school child, or adult for that matter, to come face to face with a fierce lynx.

While driving into town Peter placed the wild cat on his truck where many persons had an opportunity to have a close look at a lynx for the first time.

Alexandra Tchir And William Gordey Exchange Wedding Vows At Spedden

SPEDDEN — In a pretty afternoon ceremony in the Spedden Greek Orthodox Church recently, Miss Alexandra Tchir became the bride of Mr. William Gordey. Reverend Hrybiniuk performed the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tchir of Spedden, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Katie Gordey of Edmonton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white satin covered with lace. Her finger-tip veil misted from a rhinestone studded coronet. She carried a bouquet of red roses and carnations.

Matron of honor was Mrs. L. Cherniwchin. She wore a beige cloth dress with matching hat and accessories and carried a corsage of carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Wowk of Edmonton and Miss Irene Muzyka of Spedden. They wore pink satin cocktail dresses and white angora feather hats. They carried bouquets of white carnations.

Best men were Alex Krezanowski and Bill Krezanowski. The usher was Alex Magley. The ring bearer was Barry Chernwickin.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a copper rayon taffeta dress with black velveray design, complemented by a blue hat and accessories.

The reception was held in the Spedden National Hall. The bride and groom sat down to a table decorated with a three tier wedding cake. A dance followed the reception.

Out of town guests included: Johnny Leskiw, Peter Goruk, Russell Muzyka, Peter Syraid, Miss Diane Pacholuk, Miss Joan Skuba, Miss Kathleen Zacharuk, Miss Alexandra Landiak, Miss Violet Tchir and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sikora all of Edmonton.

Fractures Leg In Road Mishap

Ernie Jacobson, age 13, is in the Royal Alexandra Hospital with a leg fracture just above the knee. The injury occured on the road at his farm gate during icy road conditions. Driver of the truck, a resident of Newbrook district, according to a report applied the brakes but was unable to stop the truck in time, due to ice.

Three Buildings At Dewberry Entered

DEWBERRY — Thieves broke into three places of business here one night last week. Gaining entry to the three buildings by forcing door locks, they evidently hoped to make a profitable haul by robbing the safes of the post office, Co-op store and the Farmers' Store, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Rainey.

Their worst offence was the complete removal of the safe from the post office. Breaking the dial of the Co-op safe, they were foiled in their attempts either to open or to remove it from the store. Finding the Farmers' Store safe open and empty, the thieves left without apparent further mischief. No merchandise was missed.

Mr. Rainey and the Co-op manager, Bill Hyatt, reversed the rumor that windows had been broken, and assured that no damage had been done to the stores.

You would, no doubt, be surprised to know what some of your friends say behind your back.

ELIZABETH ACHTEMICHUK

Miss E. Achtemichuk Now Graduate Nurse

MYRNAM — Mr. and Mrs. William Achtemichuk of Myrnam recently motored to Edmonton to attend the graduation of their elder daughter, Elizabeth, who has completed her nurses training course at the University Hospital in Edmonton.

During her three years of training there, Elizabeth has been the recipient of numerous prizes awarded to those outstanding in the nursing field. Among the latest awards, which she received at the graduation, were: the president's gold medal in nursing; the prize of the chairman of the University Hospital Board; the prize of the board of governors of the university for the practice of nursing in the senior year.

Elizabeth was one of 81 girls who received pins and diplomas. The girls, dressed in white uniforms accented by their bouquets of red roses, were charming.

Among the many guest speakers featured was Dr. Young, Medical Superintendent of Archer Memorial Hospital in Lamont.

He spoke about the trinity of nursing.

A reception was held in the social area of the Jubilee Auditorium. At present Elizabeth is enrolled in the University of Alberta to complete her public health nursing course.

Young Thieves Raid Imperial Lumber Co.

ELK POINT — Several Bonnyville juveniles raided the Imperial Lumber Company in Elk Point last week. They broke in Sunday morning and moved on to St. Paul for an evening haul of rifles and ammunition in the lumber yard there.

They were apprehended by the RCMP and will appear to face charges on Nov. 1. They came from Bonnyville in a car stolen from that town.

Barefoot Children Flee Into Snow From Blazing Home

VILNA — Fire destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Skarlicki recently, sending six thinly-clad and barefoot children, their baby sitter and a hired man into the snow one night recently. The parents were absent when the mishap occurred.

Danny Skarlicki, aged eight, was awakened about 7 a.m. by the smell of smoke and aroused his brothers and sisters, ranging in ages from a year and a half to 10 years, as well as the babysitter and the hired man. The fire is believed to have started in the basement of the newlf modernized, two-storey, four-bedroom house.

They made their way on foot to the home of a neighbor. Efforts of the baby sitter and the hired man to contain the fire were unsuccessful, and by the time neighbors arrived to help the house was beyond saving.

House and contents were a total loss. Mr. Skarlicki had intended to take out fire insurance shortly. The family has been given temporary shelter in the farm home of John Semuluik, who resides in the village in winter.

Mr. Skarlicki had been farming for several years, then went to University of Alberta, where he graduated recently in education. This year he is teaching Grade 8.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

THE MASTER TOUCH

I was told a story once about the great Freiburg organ. The day it was finished, it was acclaimed as the instrument of the age. It was valued so highly that a caretaker was hired to look after it.

One day, the caretaker was aroused by a sudden knocking at the door. He opened the door and met a stranger. The stranger wasn't a very prosperous looking man. His suit was soiled and wrinkled from his travel. He didn't ask for food or lodging, but was bold enough to ask if he might have the privilege of playing the great Freiburg organ.

Appalled at the request, the caretaker explained that he was not allowed to let untrained fingers touch the great organ. The stranger pleaded with the caretaker until he finally consented. He warned the stranger, however, not to tell anyone that he had played the organ or the caretaker would lose his honor and position.

The stranger smiled and agreed. He sat down at the organ with experienced ease, and the caretaker returned to his dusting. He didn't dust long, however, for suddenly the organ burst forth with music like a bird's song after the hush of winter. The melody that the stranger played held the caretaker enchanted. Musical moments flew by.

The stranger glanced down to see the caretaker's penitent figure kneeling, his eyes dim with tears as he asked in wonder, "Who are you?"

The stranger replied, "It doesn't really matter, but my name is Mendelssohn."

"Oh, but surely you aren't the great Mendelssohn? What have I done?" the caretaker cried. "Please forgive me, Sir, for I have tried to keep the master from the organ."

You, like the organ, are an instrument and only the Master can bring your life in tune. When our hearts are in harmony with Him, He draws out the best in us.

When Jesus Christ becomes supreme in your life, you are filled completely with His love and peace. His love is unselfish and unfailing. He who can do all things will calm the storms of life and take away your fears. The song of a miracle will be inscribed in your heart.

God sent His son, Jesus Christ, to die on the cross for your sins so that you might know the joy of salvation. When you accept Jesus as your personal Saviour, life will take on a new and deeper meaning. Put your faith and trust in Him for all things. You then can know and experience abundant life.

Birthday Party For A. Stupack

BAYVIEW — A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stupack in honor of A. Stupack's birthday.

Mrs. Stupack served supper to guests. After supper songs were sung. At midnight coffee and cake were served.

Next morning Mrs. Stupack took the bus to Edmonton. From there she flew to Whitehorse where she will spend some time with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. Ajakielieshek.

Despite its admitted shortcomings, the church, as an institution, has done more for the average man than he realizes.

Children Enjoy Hallowe'en Treat

A Hallowe'en carnival, sponsored by the Hylo Junior Red Cross, was held in the Hylo School on Oct. 31.

Bingo, hit the mark, and ring toss were some of the games played. There were guessing contest, fish pond and a sales table with a variety of cakes, chocolate squares, popcorn, puffballs, pop and many other items to deilght a child. The raffle of a cannister cake holder was won by Henry Rossi and the guessing contest, a bag of candy, was won by Gordy Coli.

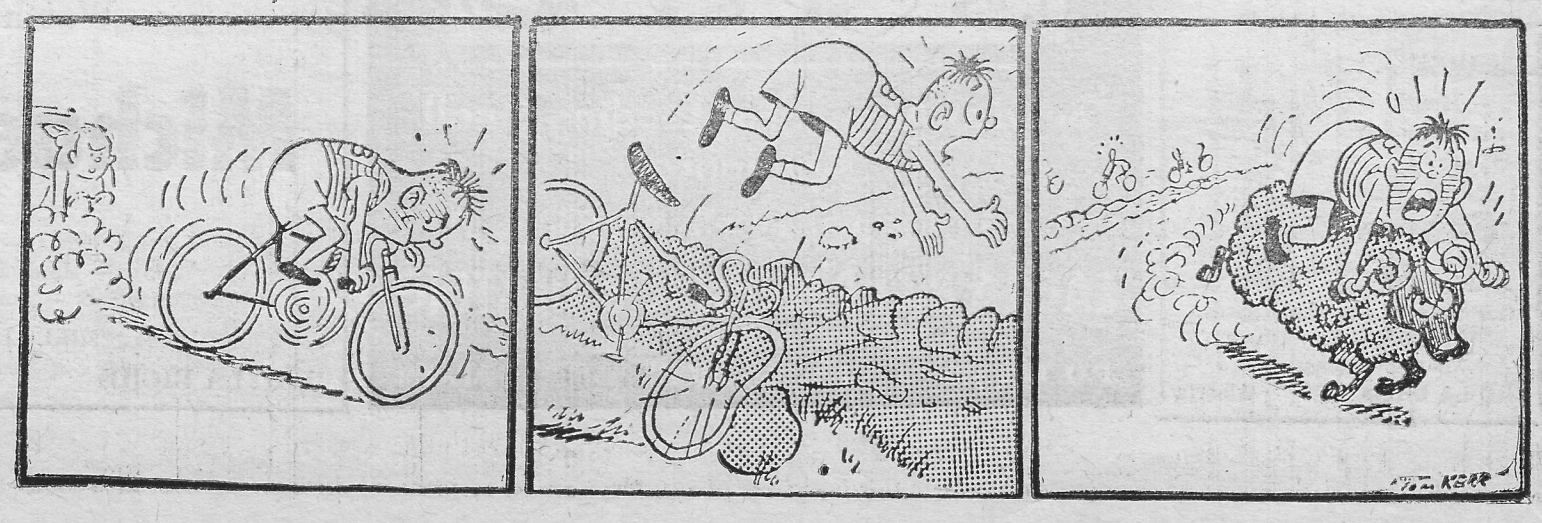
BLOOPER—By Kerr



THE Homemaker

By Bertha M. McCutcheon
District Home Economist,
Westlock

Do you feel that something new or different might give a boost to your morale? Make for a little change. Why not hang up different pictures?

PICTURE FRAMES

B. McCutcheon

Choosing an appropriate frame for your picture is important. The width of the framing depends upon the location of the unit. A small picture in a small spot cannot have a heavy frame, but if it were placed in a large area, a heavier frame would display it to better advantage.

The subject matter and medium used also determines the size and type of framing. A large heavy old painting depicting a historical scene would be complemented by a heavier more elaborate frame, whereas a pen and ink oriental water would call for a light simple frame.

Carefully consider whether the frame and subject matter will complement the style of furnishing. In addition, consider whether the style and subject matter of various pictures complement each other.

Sets of pictures are an easy solution but similar frames used on compatible subjects unite them together beautifully.

Odd sizes of prints may be tied together by various sized mats. In selecting a mat, consider the "law of margins". It governs the width of side, top and bottom margins of the mat.

(a) A horizontal rectangle is well mounted when the bottom margin is widest, the sides next widest and the top narrowest.

(b) The vertical rectangle has the bottom margin widest, the top next widest and the sides the narrowest.

(c) The square picture has top and side margins equal with the bottom widest to give a sense of balance and stability.

GENERAL POINTS TO CONSIDER IN PICTURE HANGING

1. Strong colors command attention and enliven a dark drab area.
2. Bold colors advance into the room. Don't use pictures with bold colors along the wall of a narrow room.
3. Hang a picture flat against a wall so it will be viewed well.
4. It is possible to group subjects but be sure their characters complement each other. Don't use a heavy multi-colored landscape in oil in combination with a pen and ink floral sketch.
5. Avoid the postage stamp appearance of tiny pictures placed singly. Group them together to create a larger geometrical form.
6. Relate pictures to other accessories, lamp, vase, but don't hide them.
7. Don't stagger pictures. Carry lines through placing units at eye level.
8. Isolate an important unit to create a focal point.
9. Remember that children's paintings, magazine prints or miniature artist series may be grouped and displayed for a change.

90,000 Canadians Hurt In Mishaps

Last year, 90,152 Canadians were injured in traffic accidents, 5,700 more than in 1959, according to the All Canada Insurance Federation. Most common causes are neglect and poor driving practices.

Officials of the Federation, which represents more than 220 fire, automobile and casualty insurance companies in Canada, said the majority of traffic accidents are due to carelessness, rather than poor driving conditions or mechanical failures.

Safety officials stressed the importance of obeying the well-known traffic rules, and recommended some lesser known ones.

1. If hydraulic brakes give out suddenly on the highway, use the hand brake to slow down so you can shift to a lower speed, then proceed slowly along the edge of road until you can get help.
2. Avoid arguments or violent excitement over the manners of other drivers. Additional adrenalin in the blood makes good driving difficult.
3. Check tire pressures before starting on a trip. Under-inflated tires make steering difficult, cause driver fatigue and cuts down life of tires.
4. When crossing streetcar tracks on a wet day, cut across diagonally to avoid skidding.
5. Stop for repairs well off the highway.
6. Don't change lanes unexpectedly.
7. Avoid "closing up" in heavy traffic.

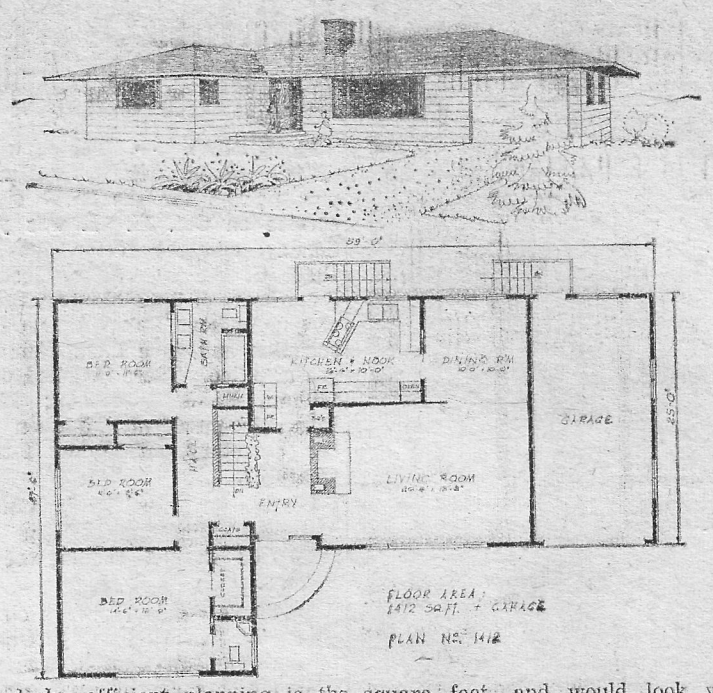
Efficient Planning Keynote Of Home



Orderly, efficient planning is the keynote of this home, with centre hall separating the bedrooms from the main part of the house, thus ensuring complete privacy for each area.

An L-shaped living and dining area provides for spacious and uncluttered areas for furniture arrangements. An outstanding feature in the lovely living room is the fireplace at the end of the room, backing on the entry hall so that the warm tones of the brick create unusually interesting wall for the entry, complimenting the planter wall on the opposite side.

This house also features plumbing and a half which is a factor that increases the mortgage valuation, besides providing for better family living.

U-shaped kitchen is planned for efficiency, and combines with a nook area for snacks for the family, and also a utility area which is optional.

The area of the house is 1412 square feet, and would look well on most lots with slight slopes to the rear.

Designed for N.H. approval, working drawings are available from the Building Centre (B.C.) Ltd., 116 East Broadway, Vancouver 10.

Winter Dress for Window Boxes

Nothing is more bare and bleak looking at this season of the year than window boxes in which last summer's plants have frozen. Empty window boxes also look sad. It requires only a few small evergreens or evergreen vines and branches to transform such a box into a thing of beauty.

These winter window boxes should be planted in October or early November before the ground freezes. They will be attractive all winter provided the soil is soaked every time there is a mild spell. Freezing will not hurt them if they are kept wet all the time. In spring they can be planted out in the garden.

As shown in the accompanying garden-graph, a good winter combination consists of ivy drooping over the front and ends of the box, with three to six evergreens as the main accent points. Moss retinospora and Spring Creek juniper are excellent evergreens for the purpose.

Dwarf Japanese yew is the best evergreen for city use. It will grow in sun or shade.

American arborvitate can also be used, but are best in the small globe or conical forms. This evergreen will also grow in sun or shade.

Hinoki cypress is interesting and useful for miniature plantings in window boxes. Tiny spruces are practical and so are dwarf Mugho pines and Pfitzer junipers.

Fallout Shelters Cited Cure For Unemployment In Canada

By Ken Larson

There's an important job that Canada's unemployed could be doing. It's a peace-time measure that should be tackled if provincial and federal politicians really believe what they say — that Canadians should have home fallout shelters.

Several weeks age, T. W. Pue, publisher of the Sun, suggested that the unemployed be put to work building fallout shelters in Canada.

The need is obvious. Key cities, especially industrial and seats of governments, are prime targets. The city of Edmonton is on the open plains, close to military establishments such as the RCAF stations at Namao and Cold Lake, and army bases such as Wainwright.

Cmdr. F. C. Aggett of Toronto, an official of the Navy League of Canada, says every Canadian city is within firing range of the deadly "Polaris type" missile which may be launched from submarines. Recent successful firings of a U.S. Polaris missile 1,700 miles on target points to the need for a strong RCN Anti-submarine force, said Cmdr. Aggett. Russia has been reported to have over 600 submarines in her naval fleet.

Hon. L. C. Halmrast, minister of agriculture in charge of civil defence measures, says Alberta would become a "bowling alley" for nuclear bombs should Russia and the U.S. engage in conflict.

Mr. Halmrast recently took out a permit for a basement shelter. Premier E. C. Manning has stated that it would be most desirable if all new homes were erected with shelters. Just last week in Edmonton at the Union of Municipalities convention, Fred Colborne of Calgary, minister without portfolio, told delegates that "you can't really afford not to have a shelter." He is going to build one, too.

Mr. Colborne promised that the government will consider tax exemptions on shelters. However, he noted that the exemption value in most cases would amount to $2.50 per year. The exemption would no doubt have a psychological effect on home owners and encourage them to build shelters.

At present, Albertans thinking about building a basement shelter seem more concerned about whether the project will be tax exempt, rather than in getting the job done.

The problem of costs for the average families also arose at the convention. A delegate asked what the government proposed to do about construction of community shelters for families who could not afford their own. The shelters, the delegate pointed out, could cost up to $700. Mr. Colborne replied that the government does not intend to build new shelters, but he pointed out that many existing buildings in Alberta have basements which can be readily converted to shelters.

Others feel that a suitable project for Canadian jobless, therefore, could conceivably be the construction of community shelters, with municipal, provincial and federal governments sharing the costs. Private builders could also be encouraged to engage in construction of private shelters, extending their own winter work operations to include more of the unemployed.

"SHOOT THE PEOPLE, SAVE THE PETS"

There's no frenzy in Canada over the building of home fallout shelters. However, the question has arisen, what to do if your neighbor tries to get into your shelter.

The general answer in the U.S., according to the Financial Post, is: "Shoot him."

In fact, this fear has prompted many to have their shelters built at night or by workmen wearing different guises TV repairmen uniforms, plumber and painters overalls, etc.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has been alarmed at the lack at attention paid to the future of animals after a nuclear attack. The SPCA urges householders to store water for animals in the shelter, and to have phenobarbital tablets to soothe them if needed.
